

Go Store It Elevates Evan Stephens to Chief Investment Officer to Drive Strategic Investment and Accelerate Growth in the Self-Storage Market

Charlotte, N.C. (January 18, 2024) — Go Store It, a leading self-storage company and subsidiary of Madison Capital Group, is pleased to announce the promotion of Evan Stephens to the position of Chief Investment Officer (CIO). Stephens will spearhead the company's investment strategy in his new role, focusing on disciplined deal assessment and maximizing investor returns.

“We are thrilled to elevate Evan to CIO,” said Ryan Hanks, CEO of Madison Capital Group. “His strong financial acumen and keen understanding of the self-storage market will be instrumental in driving Go Store It’s continued expansion and market leadership.”

Previously, Stephens served as a Senior Analyst at Go Store It before leading the company’s asset management team. Prior to joining Go Store It, Stephens was a Senior Analyst at Jefferies LLC.

“There is considerable capital on the sidelines that has targeted the storage sector. We are focused on finding opportunities to deploy this capital,” said Stephens. “I am very excited to continue to work with our team to deliver consistent and sustainable growth.”

About Go Store It:

Based in Charlotte, North Carolina, Go Store It is an affiliate of Madison Capital Group and specializes in acquiring, developing, and managing self-storage assets throughout the United States. As of January 2024, the company has more than 7.5 million square feet of storage space under management and construction.

###

Media contact:

Thornton Kennedy

thornton@prsouth.net

C | (404) 210-0363